

Designing Thriving Schools®

Leadership Training for School Reform Program

Program Goals

- Design and implement a strategic planning process for school reform that will empower the school community to design their own thriving schools based solely on student performance and academic achievement.
- Develop the instructional leadership skills of new and veteran administrators, while identifying and training future administrative candidates to address the national shortage.
- Create a district wide structure to drive professional development decisions that result in meaningful and relevant staff training.
- Strengthen communication between and within the schools, central office and school board, to promote informed district level decision-making.

Program Benefits

Students will benefit as educational leaders develop the skills to:

- Build a collaborative culture and shared vision within the school community that looks toward the future with excitement and enthusiasm.
- Utilize strategic thinking and planning as a decision-making strategy, and integrate the process into the school culture.
- Capitalize on the power of data to identify strengths and challenges, anticipate change, and recognize opportunities while constructing a road map to the future.
- Orchestrate the writing and implementation of a comprehensive building level action plan based on improved student and staff performance.
- Integrate strategies, technologies and people.
- Empower individuals to take positive action!
